12. REMARKS

NAME Scott, Kevin T DATE 15 DEC 2009

1. The contractor has never produced this item or hasn't produced it for an extended period of time. Therefore, in view of the critical nature of the part, a first article is required.

2. Vendor will normally be allowed only one attempt to receive full or conditional approval. Failure to receive approval of first article inspection will, at the discretion of the Government, result in full termination of the contract. It may also result in subsequent removal of the vendor as an approved source.

3. All dimensions and tolerances specified on the manufacturing data shall be listed in one column, with the actual corresponding reading obtained from the inspection of the part listed in another column.

4. Materials utilized in the manufacture of "First Article" items shall be identified and certified along with a copy of material purchase requests as conforming to applicable data requirements.

5. Materials processing, including finish requirements (plating, heat treatment, welding, casting, forging, inspecting, anodize, painting, etc.) utilized in the manufacture of "First Article" items shall be identified and certified along with a copy of material purchase requests as conforming to applicable data requirements. A copy of the purchase order certifying the process accomplished at other than the contractor facility shall be included.
